Famous Portuguese Legend

The Legend of the Seven Cities Lagoon (Azores)

This legend from the Azores tells the story of a beautiful princess who fell in love with a humble shepherd. However, her father, the king, did not allow the marriage because of the social differences between them. Heartbroken, the two lovers had to say their goodbyes, and as they cried a lot for each other, their tears formed two lagoons: one blue, like the princess's eyes, and one green, like the shepherd's eyes.

Moral of the story:

Love and sadness can create lasting natural beauty.
